

TEAM EFFECTIVENESS WORKSHOP

A Workshop Focused on Building Stronger Teams

Building effective teams starts with the right people and involves establishing the performance challenge, expectations around trust, respect, and communications as well how we support and reinforce each other.

AGENDA

- ✓ Key Elements of Building Effective Teams:
To integrate into an effective team, it is essential that each person has a solid grasp on what drives performance, both individually and as a team.
- ✓ Building Self Awareness:
Understanding personal strengths by knowing what you do well and by doing it more often. Self-awareness is the critical component to help people develop a more complete sense of their strengths and their contributions to team performance.
- ✓ Improving Individual Competence:
Allow individuals to leverage their strengths within the team. Based on our scientific research, conscious competence is the prime foundation for improving self-confidence. However, full development requires team members to know their opportunities for growth as well.
- ✓ Building Team Awareness
Understand commonality and synergies within the team in order to work together effectively. A stronger, more effective team respects the traits and strengths everyone brings to the table.
